Ute John

Ute John is an EU public affairs professional with 20 years of experience at Daimler AG. At present, she works as Head of Trade and Sustainability for Daimler AG in Brussels advocating international trade, investment and sustainability issues of relevance to Daimler's business and sustainability strategies. In this context, Ute works on EU trade and investment relations with the US and China, global value chains, the multilateral trading system as well as trade and climate related topics including circular economy and carbon border adjustment. Since the beginning of 2021, Ute also coordinates advocacy and outreach on sustainable corporate governance, sustainable finance and EU Taxonomy. Ute has recently taken over the Chair of the ICC Trade and Investment Commission. She is further engaged in the following business associations/federations: American Chamber of Commerce to the EU (Vice-Chair of the Sustainable Corporate Governance Task Force), BusinessEurope and the European Automobile Manufacturers Association (ACEA).
