

Organised by: Australian Forest Products Association

Session Type: Panel Discussions

Session Title

Baku, Belem and Beyond: Forests

Session Description

The role of forests in mitigating and adapting to climate change has increased in visibility since COP26 in Glasgow, and following the development of the Forest and Climate Leaders Partnership. This event will discuss the likely direction of discussions about forests out of the COPs at Baku, Belem and beyond. The event will showcase examples of where forests are delivering increases in biodiversity outcomes, delivering safe and high paid work, diversifying incomes for vibrant regional communities and assisting to decarbonise the built environment. The event will also highlight challenges and opportunities for global collaboration as we seek to end deforestation and meet global climate targets.
