

WHO, WIPO, WTO Workshop on Innovation in, and Access to, COVID-19 Technologies:

Accessing and Using Information Resources for the Pandemic Response

Julia Barnes-Weise, JD, CLP, a board member of LES, USA and Canada, is the Executive Director of the Global Healthcare Innovation Alliances Accelerator (GHIAA), a non-profit organization that develops and promotes the use of tools and best practices for global health alliance formation, including the MAPGuide®. Julie has also been a senior consultant to CEPI for over four years. She is a lawyer, global health policy and business development consultant and Certified Licensing Professional. Julie was formerly a Director of Business Development at Glaxo Wellcome (now GSK) and has decades of experience negotiating IP licenses & alliance agreements, and advising non-profits, funders, companies and institutions on partnering strategies. Her educational background includes a Juris Doctor degree from the University of North Carolina, a year at the Notre Dame London Law Centre studying international trade law, a BA from Ohio Wesleyan University, and an executive educational program at Duke University's Fuqua Business School in International Marketing Leadership