

Pierre du Plessis

Pierre du Plessis has worked on various aspects of sustainable development for 34 years, with a specialist focus on access to genetic resources and the fair and equitable sharing of benefits arising from their utilisation. He was one of Africa's lead negotiators during the development of the Nagoya Protocol and has frequently represented Namibia and Africa at the CBD, WIPO and FAO.